

Terms and Conditions

1. All teams participating in the Frankfurter BankenCup (FBC) must be from a bank, savings bank, financial institution, or sponsor.
2. Only players who are registered to the listed financial firms may participate. The same applies for participants of sponsoring companies. The organizer reserves the right to examine and approve individual cases brought before them.
3. The names specified on the application form are binding. In addition, the team specified is responsible for all costs.
4. Participation in the Frankfurter BankenCup is at your own risk. The liability of the organizer – even against third parties – is limited to intent and gross negligence. This also applies to companies established by the organizers and helpers. The organizer assumes no liability for lost or stolen clothing and equipment of the participants. Participants must therefore be insured.
5. Reporting and payment deadlines must be observed. After these deadlines have passed, subsequent nomination is no longer authorized.
6. Team reservations for tickets are binding. Subsequent cancellations are not possible.
7. Defaulters can be replaced at the discretion of the organizers.
8. All participant entry fees and pictures for the internet and official event magazine must be filed within the respected period. Failure to pay will incur the team with additional costs.
9. All planned actions – particularly promotional stands – must be voted and approved ahead of time by the organizers, who observe all exclusion rights as the official sponsors of FBC.

10. The organizer asks for all planned actions to take in consideration the organizers and other participating teams. Larger operations, such as live music, facilities, etc. but be implemented during the time of registration.

11. The teams of the financial firms agree to compensate any damages incurred during transportation to and from the event, along with any damages that are caused in or around the event.

12. All players of the Frankfurt BankenCup must read and acknowledge the rules. Recognition of the rules are acknowledged during the signing of the Frankfurt BankenCup registration form.